DECENTRALIZED COMMUNICATIONS NETWORK

"People who say it cannot be done should not interrupt those who are doing it." ~Chinese Proverb

VISION

The Decentralized Communications Network has a goal of creating an efficient and free way of communication between humans, both locally and over a great distance. The essential vision of DCM is for the network not to be controlled by a centralized controlled authority which may monitor or compromise the privacy of these humans. With creating this possibility anyone can freely put up a "virtual sign" out into the world internet in a vast sea of networks connected together as a big ever expanding marked. This tool can be used for communication with humans from the past, from the now and also establishing new connections with humans for the future in any field of communication almost totally unlimited besides being in the physical presence. This opens up for easier communication between friends, family, businesses and so on to stay in touch over a great distance sharing information in various communication formats like: texts, instant chat, sound, pictures, video etc either recorded/stored or live. This tool will also be created for companies, political institutions and various other groups who want to trade their goods or gather people in groups for different causes they are working towards also including voting over their way of living in a community, is possible via this tool. There will also be a big focus on free press or the distribution of news so that anyone who have any news to publish will be able to do this easily with the tools included in the software and this way people themselves can choose what person or institutions they wish to get their news from and don't have to be fed only by the main stream media that today has total control over news and the "Truth as they say it is" when many of us know they are only spreading lies to keep the slave system alive. There will also be a website builder content management system merged with the system to make it easy for new or established companies or anyone without any connection of business to set up a website with a choice of either templates present or self made templates integrated into this tool so that you can have some parts of the website distributed or published in the network also mail management for the site routed into your dashboard of this network tool will also be possible. Since the tool will be created open source anyone can set up their own version of this and call it what they wish, it will also be made to easier attach extensions and other build outs of the tool so that others can use this platform to build it out further this way the ones hosting it on their own domain will own their data and privacy and the tool will never be able to be controlled by a centralized system not even us as founders. There will be a connection between the hosted networks around the world so that if the ones hosting it wish to be a part of the big network they can or they can choose not to be freely. As a user who creates an account you can choose to be totally anonymous if you wish to be.

"It's pure instinct that makes me rebel every time someone tries to control my life and hand out more rules."
~Simone Elkeles, Rules of Attraction

PROBLEM WITH CENTRALIZED COMMUNICATIONS NETWORKS

The problem with today's centralized communications systems is that all information go through one server or a few servers controlled by the institution or group controlling the system which makes it very easy to misuse any ones information because you have to trust what their saying. And we know today that those in high positions don't always tell the truth and many systems like this get misused for spy purposes or political interests. And then we who use it don't really get the possibility to stay in free communications between each other because we don't know if some of our information is being suppressed/hidden or used and sold to third parties against our will, or awareness of it happening. Also not everyone has the skills to create a good looking website or a news distributing service to distribute their information or news or any other piece of information that is of importance, and because of this amateurish unknowingness this information usually gets buried and discredited by the established elite who have working tools and can easily outperform the amateurs and keep the flow of information under their control, this I want to change so that there is a free available tool out there for easier distribution of information in a high quality format so that the important information will get the people's attention and no one big power can take over this and control the masses through information control.

SOLUTIONS FOR CHALLENGES IN LIFE IN ONE SOFTWARE PLATFORM

By creating a software for communication over the internet I have created a way of living, learning and staying updated on what is going on in the world. By setting up an account you will get access to all the tools that is basic if you wish to start an online business and the bigger features when your business is getting bigger its possible to add onto what you currently have access to since it's based on a content management system that is flexible and dynamic, templates will also be easy to change and self design to promote your business or cause. So by having means of trading you can provide for your family and for yourself for a living not limited to any special location as long as you have access to a computer and the internet where through the use of this tool you get access to an ever expanding marked of users connected together in a vast network. Knowledge can also be easily distributed through this tool and it will then make it easier to obtain the knowledge your seeking for example how to build a house, how to grow your own food etc and these basic things for survival.

"One man can change the world by acting on what he believes in, rather then 100 men who have good intentions and dreams that they never dare to act upon." ~Sandalphon181

DETAILS OF THE BASIC STRUCTURE

The first view of the platform is a search engine to search the global internet and the SubEther network with result narrowing options so you can find what your looking for fast and in a sorted and well labeled way, here you are not required to have an account set up it is open for anyone who wish to search for any content. On the first view of the platform you will also get access to subpages for viewing like EcoVillage, Free-Energy, University, Services, Travel, Trading and more to come, these subpages will be described more in detail in other documents.

The second view is the registration for an free and anonymous account of a host of your choosing from a list of nodes hosted around the world, here the content will be stored encrypted in a none sql database with search able abilities connected to the other nodes in the network on different key labels that is of relevance. When registration is completed or when you login with your email or phone number or any other code and password you will get redirected to the home overview, your dashboard of the platform where everything is routed into and categorized for an overview of your most important features and news updates in one view. This dashboard will also be available for self designing since every feature built into the system is based on components, modules and plugins that can be output almost anywhere on the site easily based on the content management principle.

On the top bar you will have the logo of the host provider usually the SubEther logo, then the search field connected to search the search engine for searching through the world internet or as a standard to search through the SubEther network when on this view. Here you also have notification globaly for the whole site and links to the subpages and a control of your account menu.

On the left column you have navigation for standards like favorites, groups, contacts, pages and more.

Favorites: (list of your standard and custom favorites)

News Feed – for your customized news provider from your contacts and other interests.

Messages – for instant internal messages and email features.

Events – a calendar for keeping track of yours and your contacts and your interests and more events.

Library - a grand library over your files in any format and also connected libraries from contacts and interests of your choosing.

Browse - for browsing through many different content like contacts, files, videos, pictures and so on. This is also where you search content will show up when you use the search field on the top.

Groups: (a list of groups you're a member of with extensive feature support)

Wall – a blog that supports many sub features for getting your word and information out there.

Chat – a IRC chat for fast communication with the group in plain text format and with terminal features for group management.

Meeting – this is a tool for communication via video, sound, text and so on to be able to host meetings, radio shows, conference, webcam to webcam communication between the owners of the group and it's members live.

News – here you can run your own news publisher service and have all your articles archived and listed for the members of the group or anyone who assign the output of news to their news feed list, members can send in tips to the admin of the group for publishing.

Members – a list of the members on the group and their position, with inviting / adding new.

Events – group events listed in a calendar.

Library – a library of group files and content stored and archived and also possibilities to connect other groups or contacts open libraries.

Admin – a administration tab for group owners with useful tools for running a business or any other institution where you need tools to keep track of your economics and other kind of management.

Other: like contacts (a list of categorized contacts), pages (a list of created content management sites) and more are to come.

On the right column you have the output of the content chosen through the navigation, and also possibilities to list out a third column to list out more content in the overview.

Bottom fixed position you have a global chat to all your contacts where you will get notified if someone is trying to contact you.

The third view is the profile overview where others who have added you to their contact list can view information you wish to share with them about you or what you stand for and so on and get updates from what you write on your wall, what files, photos and documents you publish, what your interests are what connections you have and so on, basicly just a profiling view where others can find information you wish to share.

The forth view is the global settings overview kind of your settings panel for account where you can change global settings.

"As the bible says: the time had come for me to put aside childish things; I would fight not with an axe but with words and ideals, for a time they proved a stronger weapon"

~From the movie Abraham Lincoln: Vampire Hunter

CONCLUSION

This platform for communication, updating and sharing of information will make the old ways of doing these things obsolete simply because the basics of it is free and it will free up more time for the user to do the things he/she wish to do with their lives at the same time as they can stay in contact with friends, family and do business and gather information and stay updated on news very easy and not having to pay a bunch of bills to have these possibilities in a normal human life, and it's all possible with one platform connected to a vast network world wide. Also it will make sure no one big power can become to advanced and take over the main mass and bring them into mass dependency because information will be distributed between the users themselves using professional tools to get the information out there and it's in a matter of seconds, an elite force will not be able to control this rate of information spreading, because the platform is open to anyone and thus there is no harvesting of people's time and money to be able to use it. This way the user him/herself can distribute their creativity and make a business out of it and do trading and sharing on their terms instead of a third party deciding for them.

"Do not believe in anything simply because you have heard it. Do not believe in anything simply because it is spoken and rumored by many. Do not believe in anything simply because it is found written in your religious books. Do not believe in anything merely on the authority of your teachers and elders. Do not believe in traditions because they have been handed down for many generations. But after observation and analysis, when you find that anything agrees with reason and is conducive to the good and benefit of one and all, then accept it and live up to it." ~Buddha
